

Abstract

The invention relates to coated printing paper which contains mechanical pulp and whose opacity is at least 89 %, brightness at least 65 % and surface roughness not more than 4.5 μm . The printing paper contains mechanical pulp at least 90 weight-% of the total fibre content of the paper.